

New York Stock Market

New York, November 7.—The stock market came to the eve of elections in a state of semi-stagnation. How far that action was due to solicitude over the political outcome, and how far to a renewed consideration of possible further unfavorable developments in other directions, did not clearly appear. The shrinkage volume of the transactions made it clear, however, that the time was considered inopportune for large extension of speculative commitments. Union Pacific came forward into greater relative prominence, its supply of leading in the position second to United States Steel common. The proportion of United States Steel to the total dealings was maintained at near one-third, and the combined dealings in Union Pacific and Reading exceeded slightly the transaction in United States Steel. The Association of the Copper Producers' Association for October were a distinct disappointment of the more sanguine of the expectations. The market was fostered by stock market tips for some time past.

Railroads in the South group showed some special strength, owing to the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in favor of rate advances asked for.

The most position remained uncertain. Time loans were strong and call money again touched 4 3/4 per cent, last week's maximum. The private discount rate advanced in London.

The large part played by American cotton imports in the increase in Great Britain's foreign trade for October forebadows another extremely favorable trade balance for this country in the forthcoming October report. An unfavorable impression was made by the unsettled express drivers' strike in New York, the threatened tariff dispute with Germany over the potato, trade regulation, reflected in weakness in the fertilizer stocks, and the unfavorable showing of unfilled orders on hand for the year. The United States Steel Corporation in the statement for next Thursday.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,225,000. States bonds were unchanged on call.

Total sales of stocks for the day were $17,800 shares.
